

The browser back button will take the user to the previous section/page...not all the way out to the manage products page. It will function just like the "previous" button below.

On first sign in user will get a "Welcome, XXXX" message here
Each sign in there after the user will get a "Welcome back XXXX" messages here

Would like the search icon to animate out to the left

The UL logo displays when collapsed and the WERCSmart logo displays when open.
The menu will be open when the user signs in and an X will display. The user can collapse the menu by clicking on the X to move it out of the way the hamburger will display.

Is your product marketed for use by or on children under the age of 12?

Yes No

Is your product marketed for use by or on children under the age of 14?

Yes No

These questions populate based on the answer to the "Where is this product sold?"
1st question US
2nd question CANADA

Do you have a Safety Data Sheet (SDS) for this product?

If yes, you might want to use it as a reference on the following pages.

If no, we can draft one for you.

Once copied, curtain product details will be removed and the user will need to enter new info into fields left blank or unanswered questions.

This dropdown will list the last 10 products registered with a more link

This smart search (user begins to type a product type) would generate a suggestion list that would allow them to select a product name

Would auto populate based on product name above

It would be nice if we could provide a list of brands or lines they currently associate in the WS system and user credentials.

The dropdown requires users to select "common" names for the product (this list needs to be cleaned up and accurate). This requirement satisfies Walmart, private label, and GoodGuide requirements for common names and will pave the way for future consumer facing additions and retailer needs.

If yes on first, then trade secret will be auto "no"
If no on first, then trade secret can be either yes or no

Yes No

Will this product's solution have a pH level that is greater than or equal (\geq) 12.5 when mixed with equal parts water?

Yes No

Water Base or Liquidity

Is the product gravity greater than water (water = 1)?

What is the product's water solubility?

What is the product's partition coefficient?

Could this question be classified as a water type question?

This question should only display if the product type has been identified as a solvent. Should not display if it's not applicable the product type...this question will confuse the user if it's not applicable.

Flash Point

Enter the product's flash point.

No flash point

How was the product's flash point determined?

Closed cup Open cup Not available

Does this question display based on a question answered earlier? Is it a conditional display?

Is it a deal breaker if they don't have it? "Not available" is a way out for someone not to answer this question. Does regulatory depend on this answer to process assessment?

What is the product's color?

What does the product smell like?

What is the product's odor threshold range?

U.S. Toxic Substances Control Act (TSCA)

Is your product compliant with TSCA? Yes Exempt

Canadian Environmental Protection Act (CEPA)

Does your product meet the Domestic Substances List (DSL) requirement?

Yes No Exempt

Does your product meet the Non-Domestic Substances List (NDSL) requirement?

Yes No Exempt

Remove these question and use chemical LOLI data to determine.

What do each of these selections mean in the product registration process? Will there be a hold, is it not important to the process?

These questions would not display if the product was non-toxic!

Question displaying is dependent on where the product is sold, which was a question in the product type section
